

TWO-WHEELING TO THE WORKPLACE

Denver Post DP 6/29

Above: Bicyclists travel the Cherry Creek bike path near downtown Denver on Wednesday during the annual Bike to Work Day. At left: Two cyclists, one of them carrying an electric razor, pedal on the path. Bike to Work Day is coordinated by the Denver Regional Council of Governments. Last year, about 18,000 commuters left their cars behind and biked to work, saving an estimated 268,000 vehicle miles.

PHOTOS BY GLENN ASAKAWA